What's behind the door?
Architecture at the Arts Centre

Sat 10-11am, 12-1pm, 2-3pm

Sun 10-11am, 12-1pm

Maker Space, Christchurch Girls' High/School of Art (The Arts Centre Te Matatiki Toi Ora)

The Arts Centre Te Matatiki Toi Ora formerly known as Canterbury College, has always been a place of history, architecture, and creativity. Our new architecture programme explores the neo-gothic style at The Arts Centre and other architectural design across the world.

For the first time, they are allowing students behind the fences and into the stonemason's tent, where most of the intricately carved stonework that graces The Arts Centre's walls is created.

Students will be able to talk to an expert in their field about stonemasonry, one of the oldest professions and art forms in human history. Students will learn what makes a building neo-gothic and embark upon a scavenger hunt trying to find these unique design features. They will come away with a glossary of neo-gothic vocabulary and their own take home hands-on activity. They will also learn about key individuals that are historically linked with The Arts Centre and its buildings.

Cardboard City
Building

1:30pm - 4pm

Annabel Cropper and Yvonne Hall | Ngā Purapura/
Activity Room, Level 1 (Tūranga)

Let's see what kind of cardboard city we can make together. Come and make a house or building using only cardboard, glue and a black pen! You can stack them on top of each other or join them to a friend's creations and start to make a city!

This workshop is inspired by the artwork of artists Alfredo and Isabel Aquiliza who use their work to think about the challenges of moving to a new home or to an unfamiliar country. Suitable for 8-12-year-olds.

Session limited to 20 people.

This workshop is presented as part of Open Christchurch
